Nobody rained on our parade!

For a change, Homecoming Weekend dawned without rain. Theta Chi fraternity captured first place in the annual homecoming float competition.

It was a weekend of celebration — good weather, great football and the crowning of IUP royalty: Brett Moses and Julie Tromberta.

A great deal of hard work and long hours helped make the parade a success. Countless hours at Mack Park created Broadway masterpieces for IUP's sororities, fraternities and organizations.

Of course, the fabulous IUP Marching Band was on hand to entertain the crowd at the football game, in which IUP reigned victorious.

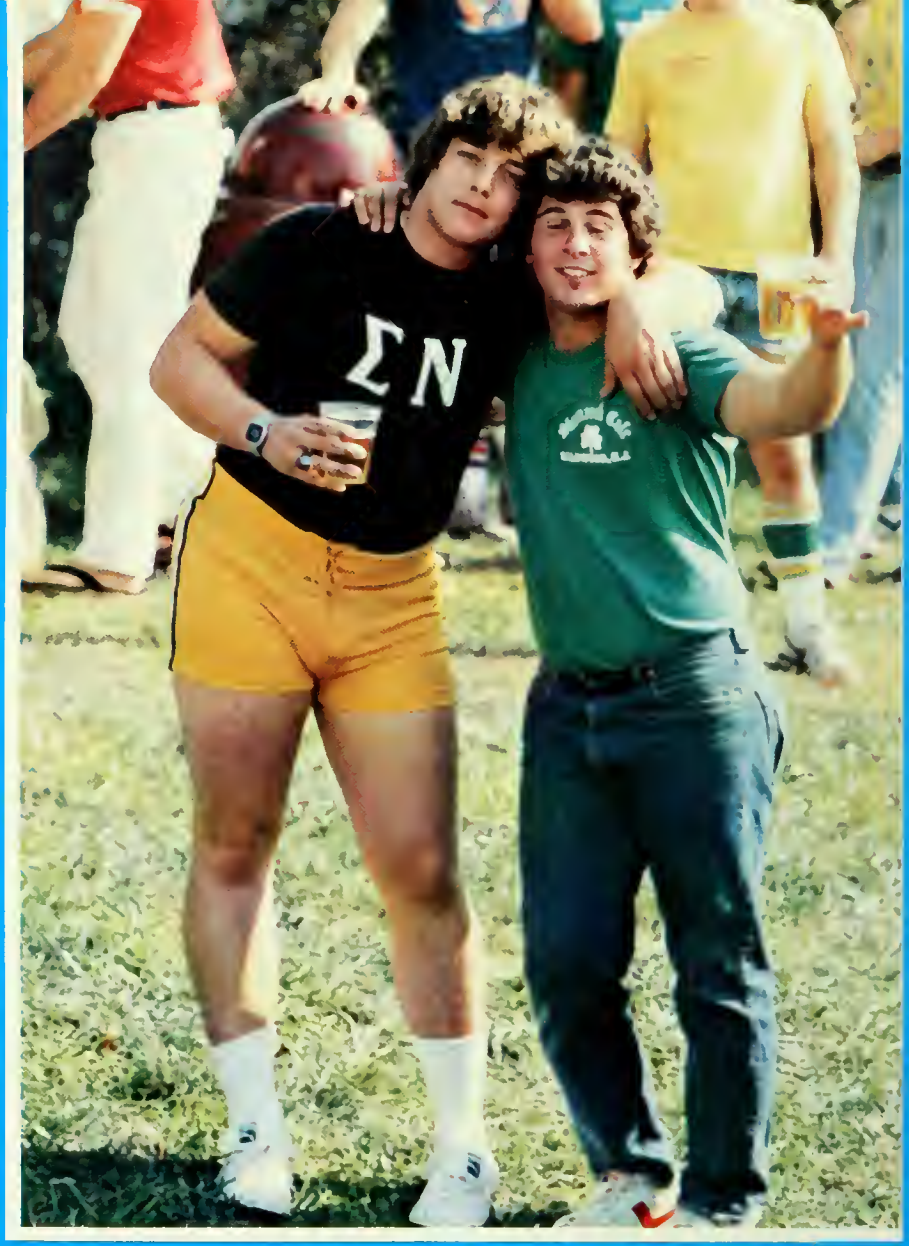
Broadway never saw so many stars

KD and Phi Psi's Rainbow

Second place went to Kappa Delta Rho and Gamma Sigma Sigma



IUP has been called "the place for all reasons." From academics to social activities, this college town in Pennsylvania really lives up to the above slogan.

There can be something for everyone at IUP. If you want to become involved in an organization, there are more than 180 at IUP. You can cheer the IUP Indians on during football season, swim at the Anchor Splash, "fall out" at Farm Day or just have a few beers with your friends and unwind.

IUP's Flying Colors

IUP has many things to be proud of. Two of those outstanding assets are the cheerleaders and the band. They provide a special part of the sideline activities at sports events and boost the maroon and slate wherever they go.

Both groups are hard workers that put in many hours of practice to give polished performances to crowds of delighted audiences.

Whether it's the band cranking out a medley of tunes or the cheerleaders setting up for a difficult formation, we want them to know we appreciate what they stand for — the maroon and slate of IUP.

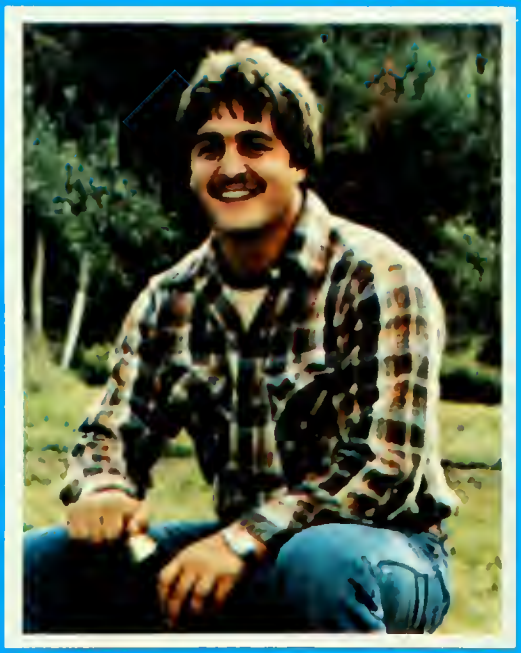
Just an average night out with the gang at IUP!

Having a good time at Farm Day, Pam?

Ahoy there sailor!

Places, faces, traces, "cases", races



The future is a world limited by ourselves.
In it we discover only what concerns us and
Sometimes, by chance, what interests those Whom we love the most.

— Maurice Maeterlinck —

Alma Mater

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay,
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

A prayer for her who sheltered us,
A hope no child her name will stain,
A cheer thrice given with a hearty voice
And now a sweet refrain.

Of loyalty are symbols twain,
Her colors, crimson and the gray,
"Dear Indiana Mother Fair,"
The burden of our lay.

Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail; her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

— Hamlin Cogswell

Today is like an open book
Each page is fresh and new,
You read along and see the years
Stretched out ahead of you —
You can't imagine at this time
Just what they'll hold in store,
But here's a wish that each will bring
All that you're hoping for.
Congratulations to you
For all you've achieved,
You deserve the diploma
that you have received.
Wherever you go
And whatever you do,
May a beautiful future
Be waiting for you.

Glimpses

Ron and Dave — the best of the West at IUP?

You'll never guess who I met in the shower!

Aw, c'mon, Philadelphia can't be that bad!

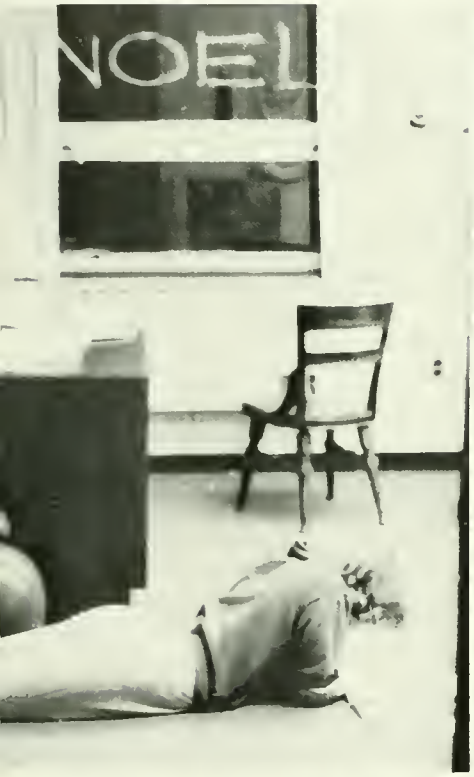
It is, isn't it?

Remember when?

Who was that masked man?

A familiar sight — Philadelphia Street

Life at IUP



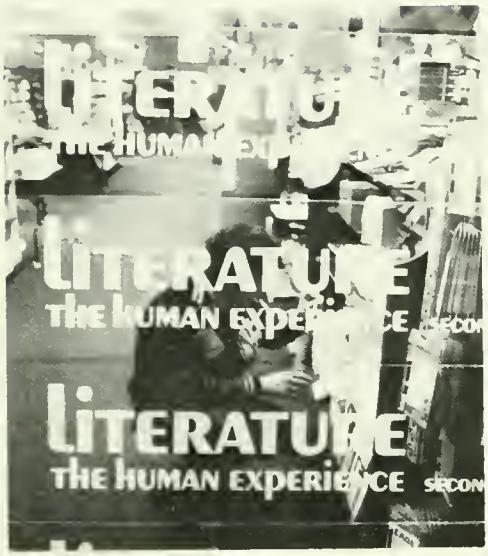
Sometimes it takes drastic measures to make people study!

To know the joy of living
Is to know life's worthwhile things;
The satisfaction of work well done,
The joy that friendship brings;
It's counting up a lifetime,
Not by the years we spent,
But by our store of memories
And by our heart's content.

— Karl Lawrence

The Forbidden Fruit(s)

Faces



Are you serious, Koren?

I'm not wasting my money, Mother!

The Artist at Work

Faces
Some we pass every day,
Some we may never encounter
We go through our lives
Searching for something, someone
But do we ever really look
At the important things that lie
Right in front of us?
Sometimes we forget to say
Thank you's and I love you's
To the ones that we love the most
We realize, when it is too late,
That we wanted to say so much
To the faces that passed us.

— P. Ellis

What an experience — those eight o'clocks that made you wonder why you went out the night before, stubborn professors to match your own temperament, labs that lasted so long you wondered if you would make it through those chemical formulas, classes outside in the rare sunshine, cramming on Leonard Hall's front steps, listening to Mr. Stonebraker's explanation of economic reasoning: the list goes on and on. It's all a part of IUP academics and IUP people.

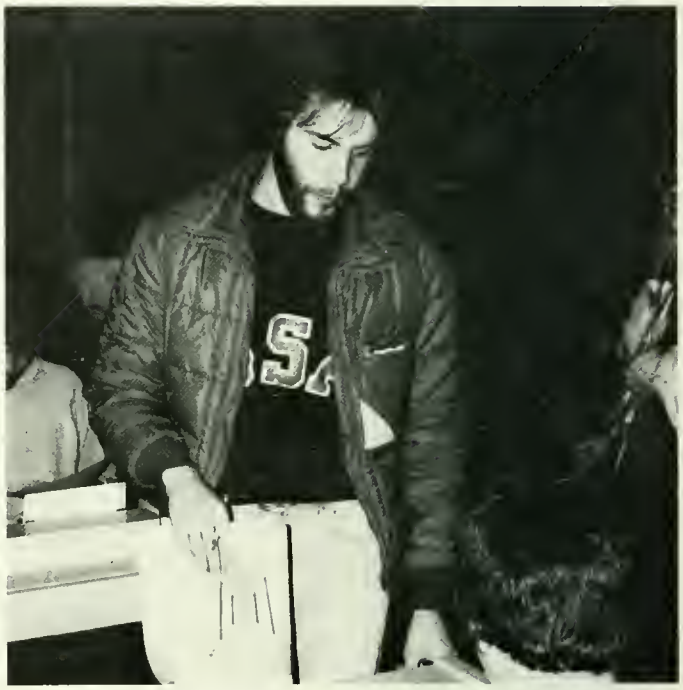
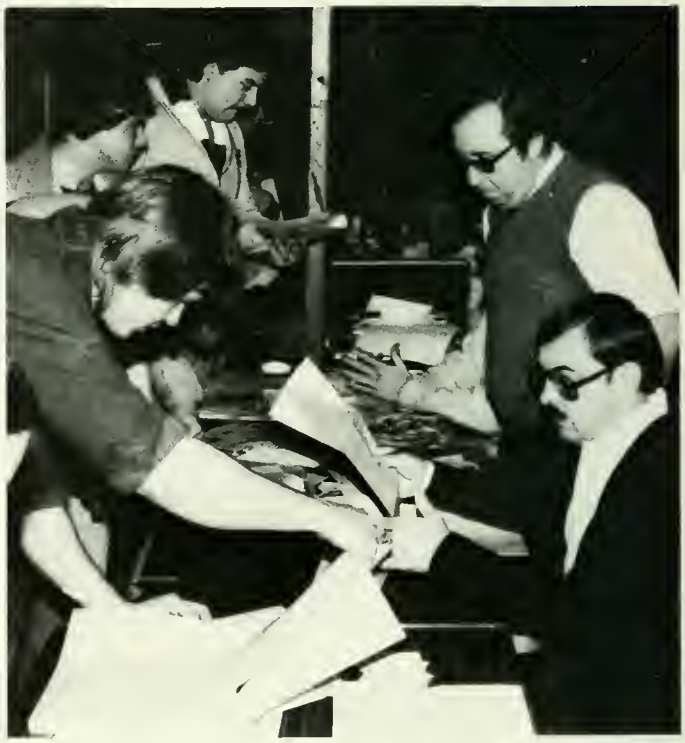
Arena Registration (Ugh!)



Can I squeeze this in?



Please sir, I'm graduating!

Arena registration can cause many college students to break out in a cold sweat. The simple mention of these two words conjure up images of long lines outside the Zink gym. Once you strain your eyes looking at the little yellow board of numbers, pray you get through the terminals the first time and finally pick up your white slip, you're ready for a night out on the town. But, fear not! There is a bright side to this tale of woe. This year's registration went relatively smoothly. Maybe this is an indication of better things on the way.

The Oak

The 1982 OAK staff worked diligently to help create a new image for the college annual. The book is trying to make itself known in the IUP community. The OAK has been a part of this campus since 1912 when it was called the INSTANO. It became the OAK in 1928 when IUP became a state teachers college. Working to undo some problems on past editions, the 1982 staff put much time and energy into this book. Also, a new advisor helped put the OAK back on its feet. His help was greatly appreciated. The staff tips its hat to Mr. Mel Cochran, IUP's budget director and the advisor. It is the staff's hope to create a better and more innovative book each year. Good luck!

One of those terrific Tuesday night meetings.

The Penn Business Staff

The first attempts at a student newspaper on campus were in 1921. Regular publication of a newspaper, named The Indiana Penn, was established in 1928. It began as a weekly and is now published three times a week. The name was changed to The Penn in the spring of 1981.

In the spring of 1969, The Penn began to solicit advertising from local merchants. The number of pages per issue depends on the volume of advertising, most papers having 16 pages.

The Penn currently employs 160 people; all positions are paid. The purposes of the paper are to report all news affecting the university community; to serve as a check on decisions affecting IUP; to promote university functions and activities: and to provide consumer information to the reader through advertising.

The Penn prides itself on being the fourth-largest college newspaper in the state.

Concert Dance

Beginners

Intermediates

Advanced

The IUP Concert Dance Club, under the direction of Jane Dakak, provides students with an opportunity for culture, physical fitness and dance as a performing art. The club is the largest performing group on campus with approximately 200 members. They have participated in the annual fall concert, homecoming carnival, basketball reception, Miss IUP pageant and annual spring show. They also perform for the Elderton Lion's Club. They have attained the honor of performing in the American College Dance Festival Association's Gala performance in regional competition.

Economics Club

The Economics Club was formed in the early 1970s to promote the interest and understanding of economics among its members and to participate in projects beneficial to both the university and the community.

KOPhi was originated at Northwest Missouri State Teachers College at Maryville, Miss., by sponsor and national founder Miss Hettie Margaret Anthony. The organization was completed on Dec. 11, 1922. The purpose of this honor society is to further the best interests of home economics by recognizing and encouraging scholastic excellence, developing leadership potential and fostering professional activities and interests. The advisor of this group and six members attended the regional conference in Akron, Ohio, on Oct. 16-18, 1981. They honored Emmy Sellers this year as an outstanding alumnus. KOPhi is the only home economics honorary society on the campus.

The Hospitality Management Club was organized in the fall of 1978. The purposes of this organization are to bring to the student professionals the many facets of food service and to develop and promote a professional attitude toward the hospitality industry among its members. It also helps students prepare themselves for employment in the hospitality and food service management fields, making them aware of the qualifications sought in areas of the professions. The club is the only organization on campus to hire students in pursuit of food service careers. A booth was sponsored by the club at the Pittsburgh food show, "A Taste of the Town," held at the Expo Mart.

Phi Mu was founded in 1852 at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga Locally established in 1950, it is headquartered in Atlanta, Ga. The sorority's purpose is to foster, develop and perpetuate the bonds of friendship, with an emphasis on the concept of identity through involvement. Fundraisers benefit Project HOPE, the national philanthropy of Phi Mu. The year's activities include sponsoring Homecoming King Brett Moses, participation in Theta Xi Broomball, Sigma Chi Derby Days and the All Points Race.

Phi Sigma Kappa

Phi Sigma Kappa was founded in 1873 in Massachusetts. The IUP Theta Pentaron chapter was organized in 1963. They received their national chapter in 1965. The spirit of the chapter began then and has served well thus far. Some traditions are: to keep membership levels large enough to support housing and social costs, the concept of fraternity for life, emphasis on family trees and combining social and service activities. They raise money for the Ebensburg Retarded Childrens Center and Alice Paul House for Battered Women. They are champions in the Greek Week Tug-of-war, they were in Greek Sing with Kappa Delta, and they are active in many social activities.

Sigma Sigma Sigma National Sorority was founded in 1898 at the Farmsville Virginia State Female Normal School. The Lambda Chapter at IUP was formed in 1915 and is one of the oldest sororities on campus. The sorority's philanthropy is "Play Therapy for Hospitalized Children" through the Robbie Page Memorial Fund. Since the beginning of this fund in 1956, Tri Sigma collegians and alumnaes have contributed millions of dollars to this cause.

The Indiana sisters of Tri Sigma have received the following awards this year. second place in Greek Entertainment Night, Funniest performance in Greek Entertainment Night, second place in Derby Days, Spirit Award for Derby Days, Fund Raising Award for Derby Days, Derby Day Queen and third place overall in Greek Week All Points Race.

Hoagies sales become second nature to you. But once you reach the formal or your initiation into the brotherhood or sisterhood, it all seems worth it.

ONE WAY TO KNOW YOU'RE SUCCESSFUL

"The thing I like most about my life is that I'm doing something that I'm in love with. I've said it before and I'll say it again. I'd rather be a failure at something I'm in love with than successful at something I don't like.

"I don't care what you do for a living. If you love it, you're a success. You don't have to be rich and famous. If you love what you're doing, you're successful whether you're making money or not."

It's in!

More culture?

IUP boasts one of the best Greek systems found in Pennsylvania colleges. There are 15 fraternities and 13 sororities that you can become involved in. Brotherhood and sisterhood may be words to you now, but if you choose to "go Greek," they could mean so much more. You find brothers and sisters that you can confide in, turn to and spent time with. Greeks carry on their ties forever. "Once a Greek, always a Greek!"

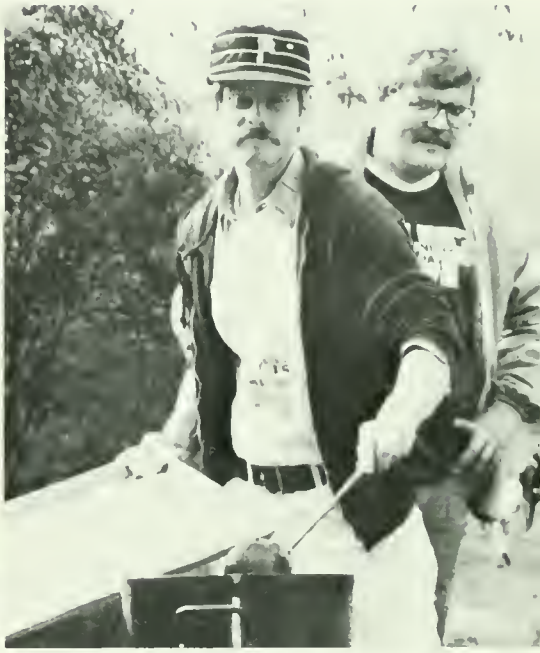
Farm Day

Farm Day, a part of the Unofficial Sizzling September Weekend, was not exactly sizzling weather-wise. The weather was cool on September 19, but that did not prevent anyone from having a good ol' time.

There were two southern rock bands that performed at the University Farm: Justin Kase and Highway Ghost.

There was an added attraction to Farm Day XI — Dunaldo and Dawn. They were a husband and wife magic act that was "sawing people in half" and doing levitation tricks.

As always, there were plenty of games and food available. Farm Day XI was a good time for those who attended.



"Gorcha!"

Dan Kamin

The "Pantomime Man," Dan Kamin, performed at IUP on October 17 during the Homecoming weekend. He was out of the ordinary in that he verbalized to establish a rapport with the audience. His improvisations appealed to all audiences.

As an added attraction, he improvised mimes from the audience's suggestions.

Homecoming Carnival

A special attraction for the returning alumni for Homecoming 1981 was the Oak Grove Carnival. Folk dancing, modern dancing, games, a magician and, of course, scads of delicious food! For adventurous souls, a hot air balloon was on hand to give an aerial view of IUP.

Homecoming Parade

For a pleasant change from past years, the weatherman cooperated to make IUP Homecoming 1981 a spectacular event. It was a beautiful day to watch the 15 Broadway floats, 19 marching bands and 8 majorette units that strutted down Philadelphia Street and Fraternity Row. The procession made its way to Miller Stadium for a pre-game show, topped off by the crowning of IUP Homecoming King and Queen, Brett Moses and Julie Tromberta

Oktoberfest

"Oom pah pah, oom pah pah that's how it goes"

On October 23, 1981, the University Lodge boasted a full house. The German Club and the Music Department sponsored the first Oktoberfest. The party featured the Alen Schuhplatter Dancers from Pittsburgh and the Rhine Valley Dixieland Band, which is comprised of students, faculty and alumni from IUP. A buffet of German food was prepared by students of both departments. It is hoped that the Oktoberfest will become an annual event at IUP

Christmas Bazaar

A wide variety of arts, crafts and home-made goodies were available at this year's Christmas Bazaar. The bazaar was held during the week of December 1, which provided an opportunity for IUP and the community to get a headstart on their Christmas shopping.

Activities Fair

The Activities Fair, which was held on October 29, was an obvious success. Over 70 groups were represented at booths in the Student Union. There were homemade foods, arts and crafts and various displays provided by the participating organizations. The fair was sponsored by the Office of Residence Life and Orientation, and the Office of Special Programs and Organizations.

Coffeehouses and TGIF

The Activities Board once again provided Coffeehouses and TGIF concerts for the IUP community. Every other Friday, students gathered downstairs in the Union to listen to the TGIF bands. The music ranged from blues to rock to jazz. Coffeehouses were usually held on Thursday and Friday nights. Student performers opened for the coffeehouse acts. Listeners tuned into reggae, blues and mellow melodies.

Tamburitzans

"One, two, three; one, two, three "

The Tamburitzans, a group of 40 European folkdancers from Duquesne University, performed February 7 at IUP.

Most of the dances performed by the group were of ethnic origin. They included a Slovak hat dance, two Turkish dances and dances from Bulgaria and the Ukraine.

The Tamburitzans have a 10-month season in which they perform 120 shows throughout the United States and Europe. They have been dancing together for 45 years and have never disappointed their audiences.

Quiet Riot Mime

"What do you want me to do with it?"

The Quiet Riot Mime performed in the IUP Student Union February 18 to an appreciative audience. The troup consisted of Bill Mattler and Kevin O'Connor, an empty stage, a hidden microphone and a few props.

The show involved mime, dance and gymnastics. The act exploded with verbal comedy, live music and audience involvement.

Their theme was that man is always trying to control life, but never quite succeeds. The skits included a scene in a dining hall, an encounter between a truck driver and a band of Hell's Angels, a dramatic reading of an Arabian Nights story and much more.

Superdance

EVERYBODY helped raise funds!

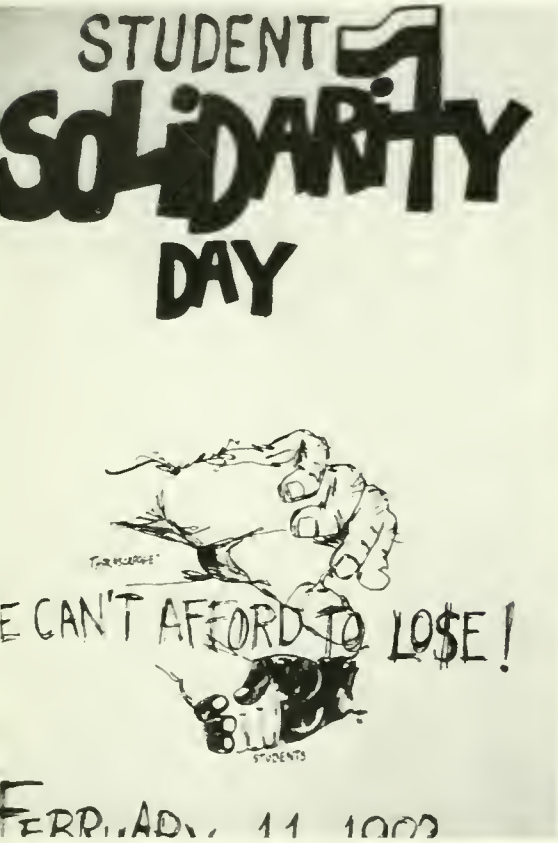
The 3rd Annual Superdance was held Friday, Feb. 12, in the basement of the Student Union. It was sponsored by the Residence Hall Association, Phi Psi fraternity and Gamma Sigma Sigma service sorority. The dancers raised $5,682 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The 24-hour marathon set a new tri-state area record for dancer participation. Alpha Sigma Tau sorority and Kappa Delta Rho fraternity captured the Greek trophy; the IUP nursing department was awarded the non-Greek prize.

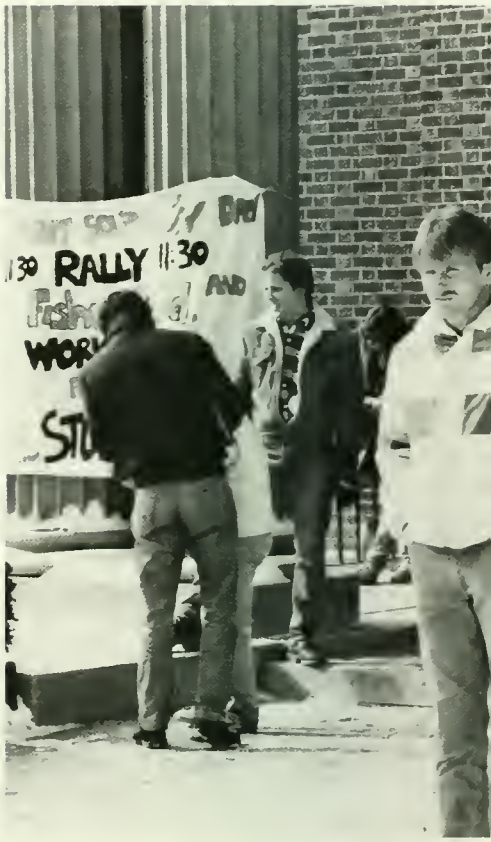
The Roommate Game

"Now, let me think

The Roommate Game took place in the tri-dorms of Shafer, Scranton and Lawrence. Governor's Quad roomies got together to see just how much they knew about each other. Some answers were surprising, some humorous, others very embarrassing! If you didn't know much about your roommate before the game, you certainly found out some hidden secrets during the show!

Student Solidarity Day





Solidarity Day, February 11, was organized to protest the $75 tuition hike and poor funding for the Pennsylvania State College and University system. A rally of 2,000 students was held in Fisher Auditorium. Speakers urged IUP students to become more active in fighting proposed tuition increases and cuts in allocations to state schools.

The Commonwealth Association of Students also sponsored a protest march from Fisher Auditorium to Sutton Hall's Oak Grove entrance where students cried, "We won't pay!" and simulated burning their $75 increase bills.

Lee Ann Keiper and Pamela Hopbell were first and second runners-up respectively.

Camelot

Camelot was produced by the IUP music department and performed February 4-6 in Fisher Auditorium. The musical about the life of King Arthur and the knights of the round table was superbly portrayed by the student actors. Jay Butterfield, as King Arthur, put the audience back in the days of armour and chivalry. Gerald Sell, as Lancelot, was more than believable in his portrayal of Arthur's right-hand-man. The woman holding both of these men's attentions was Theresa Teno, who played Queen Guinevere

ROTC Armistice Day Parade

The annual ROTC Armistice Day parade was held on November 11. Marching in the parade were various IUP groups, including a cadet battalion, the Pershing Rifles and the Spirit of Bleu.

The highlight of this year's parade was the dedication of the sight for a Vietnam War Veteran's memorial. This memorial will be located in front of McElhaney Hall, and will be dedicated some time next year by the IUP Vet's Club.

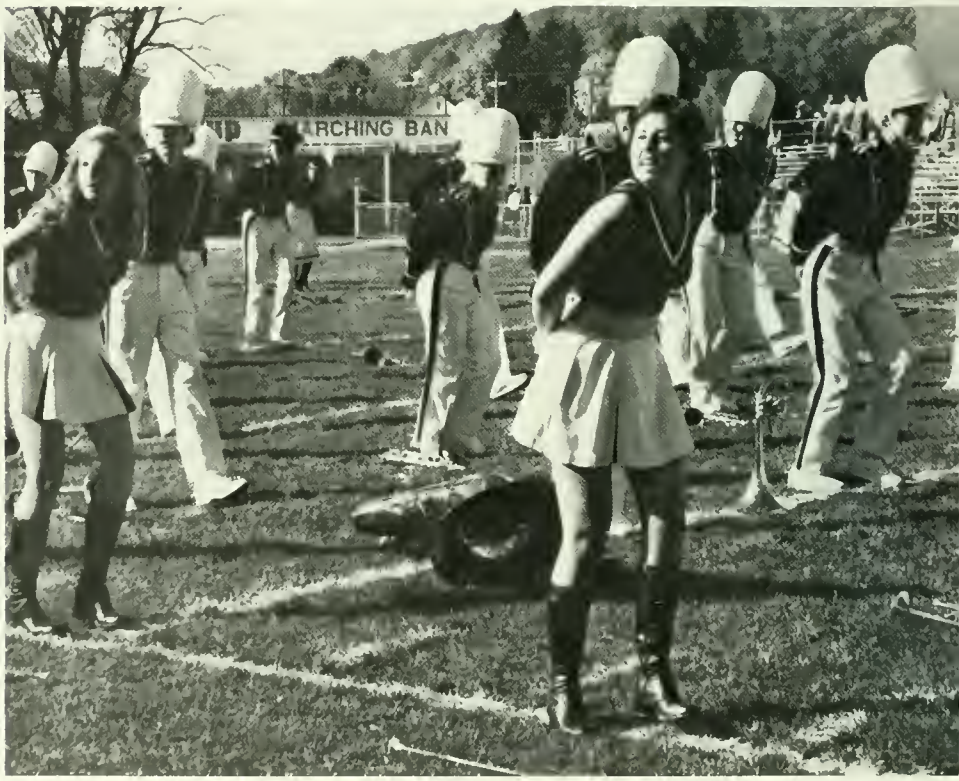
Troy Urness, Mr IUP

The second Mr. IUP Pageant, sponsored by the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, was held November 6 in Fisher Auditorium. There were 16 contestants who competed in a bathing suit, tuxedo and talent competition.

The winner was Troy Urness of Theta Chi fraternity. First runner up was Scott Gilson of Alpha Tau Omega. Second runner up and winner of the talent award was James Krenin of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The profits of more than $1,800 went to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

IUP Marching Band



The IUP Marching Band, under the direction of Dr Charles Casavant, was a welcome sight at the IUP football games. With close to 200 members, the band was a success as usual. Besides the musicians, the band included majorettes, a rifle squad and a flag corp. The drum majors were Mark Perehinec, Jay Butterfield and Jill Eicher. The specialty of the band this year was a Styx medley that included songs from the Paradise Theater album.

Behind the Scenes

The Concert Dancers of IUP put in many grueling work hours to prepare for their shows. Our photographers got these shots during one of their practices. What you don't see here is the sweat, the grime, the moans, the patience needed when trying new lifts and the endurance put in by the members of the troup. From the beginners to the advanced group, the Concert Dancers are people IUP can be proud of. They work hard at perfecting their combined talents to entertain audiences twice a year. In our opinion, the workouts pay off!

Farm Day

Farm Day was held on the first weekend in May, as usual. It meant a lot of different things to a lot of different people, but most everyone thought it meant a GREAT time. Good food, good friends and good music made the day slip away. Before you knew it, you had been all over the University Farm grounds and had fallen in the lake at least twice. Or maybe you were one of those unfortunate souls who were thrown in. Then again, maybe you were one of those happy-go-lucky people who can't remember what you did on Farm Day. At any rate, the general concensus was that Farm Day was a success, whether you played frisbee, held a white rabbit or just mingled with friends in the crowd.

Dorms — That tiny cubical many call home

"Overdraft? I know I put $5 in last semester!"

Comfy?

And they called it puppy love

IUP dorm life is a combination of many things — from consideration to toleration to sharing it or bearing it. Almost every student here has, at one time or another, experienced dorm living and knows its ups and downs. Sure, coping with blaring stereos at 3 a.m. and learning to build bunkbeds out of 10 pieces of wood may not be that great, but what about the friends you made and late night popcorn parties with people on your hall? Aren't they times you'll remember? And who cares if Debbie has slept in your room the past week because she left her keys at home and doesn't want to pay for a new set? She'll find them eventually, and you've gained a great friend. Isn't it all worth it?

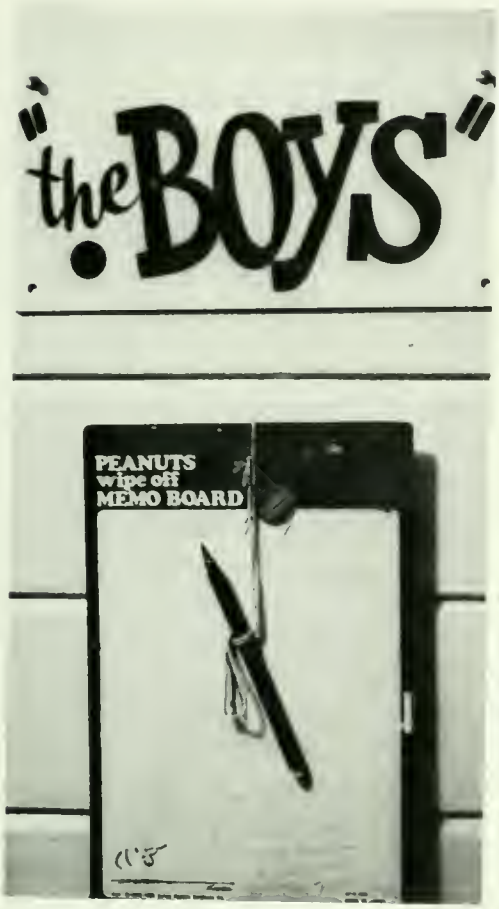
Is she Feeling, or is he?

Reach out and touch someone

Off Campus Living – A taste of real LIFE

Parties and friends

"Pucker up sexy!"



The Boys are back.

Finally, you're off campus and into a house or apartment and ready for a taste of real life. No more hall counselors, and at last you can have the bathroom to yourself. A large majority of upperclassmen live in the hundreds of houses surrounding IUP. They no longer have to contend with getting written up, but now they have to pay the utility bills and clean the house. They don't seem to mind though; we haven't heard many complaints. In fact, the pictures on the next pages show how much fun off-campus living can really be.

"Hey Down there! Come on up!"

"Wow. You have a nice "

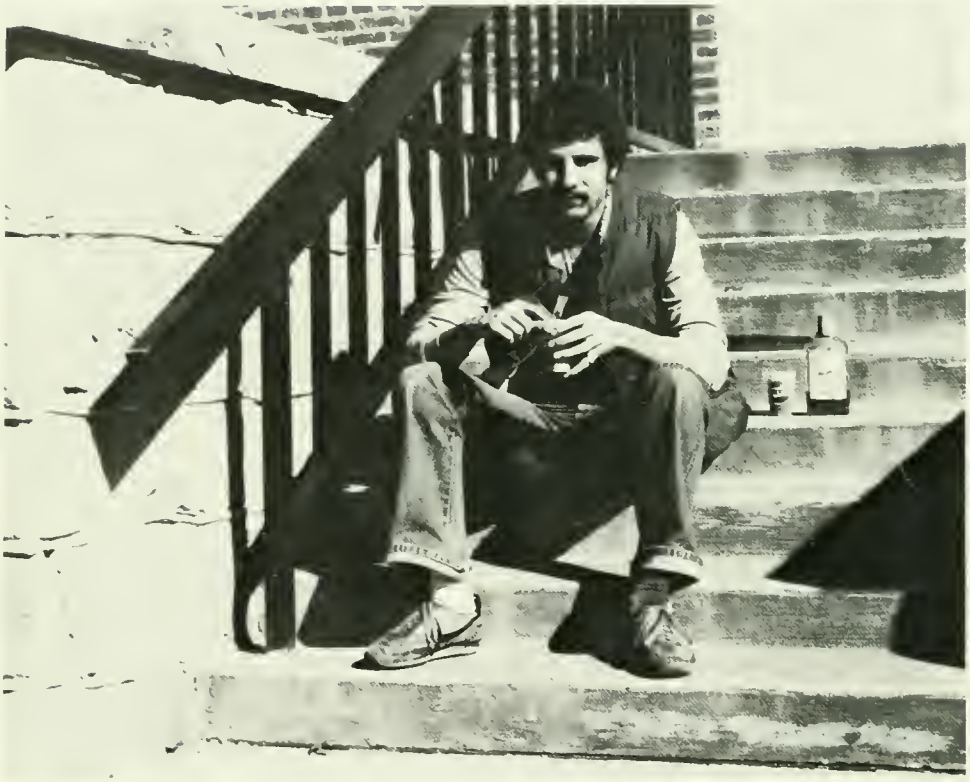
Campus Candids

"What are you looking at?"

"And then he said "

We all know those Co-op lines well

Since the founding of IUP in 1875, over 40,000 students have graduated from here, and since the university became a degree-conferring institution in 1927, over 30,000 degrees have been granted. IUP is located in Indiana Borough in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains. The campus has been described as one of the most beautiful in the state. It consists of 137 acres, on which are 79 major buildings and 7 athletic fields. Those of us who attend IUP are fortunate to be a part of an institution with such high academic standards, and at the same time can take advantage of the truly beautiful campus and many activities IUP has to offer



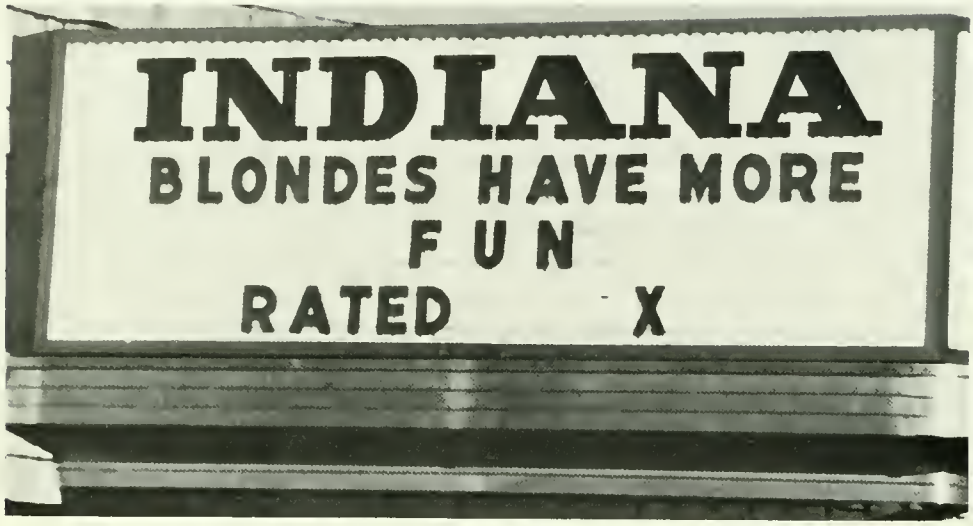
Afternoon delight

"O.K. You get the blonde, I'll get the brunette."

"My mother made me wear it"

Alone at last

Indiana, Pa.



"We do have more fun!"

The place for all reasons?

We must say goodbye . . .

My heart is warm with the friends I make,
And better friends I'll not be knowing;
Yet there isn't a train I wouldn't take,
No matter where it's going.

— Edna St. Vincent Millay —

Performances!

IUP boasts many performing arts troups. Our photographers happened to catch the opening show of this year's Theatre By The Grove, "Seascape" and the I-Uppers Homecoming show.

As usual, the 1981-82 performances of IUP's Theatre By The Grove were excellent. Both faculty and student-directed shows were quality productions that everyone involved with can be proud of.

On those same lines, the University's namesakes lived up to their much-waited-for shows. The I-Uppers performed throughout the year, with every crowd leaving fully satisfied and anticipating next year's lineup.

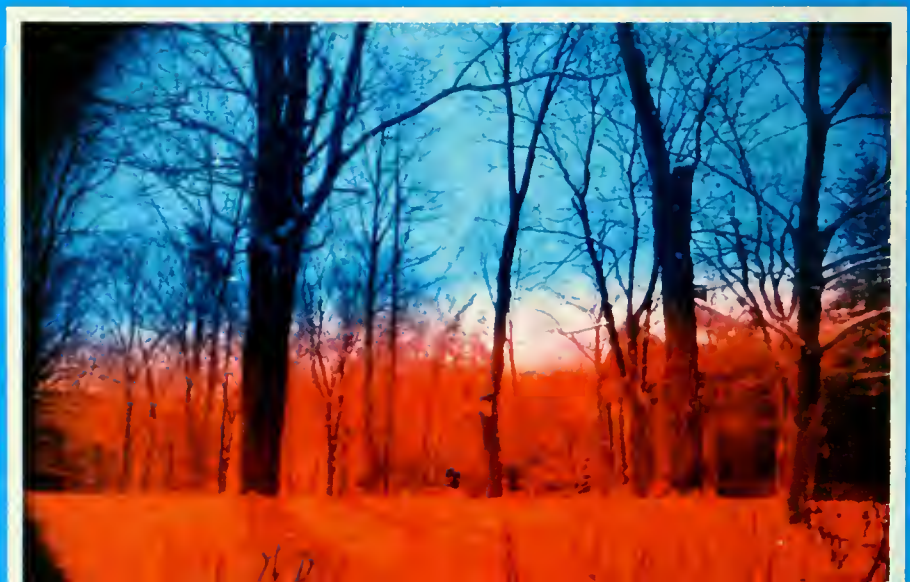
IUP — A Winter Wonderland

The sky is low, the clouds are mean,
A travelling flake of snow
Across a barn or through a rut
Debates if it will go.

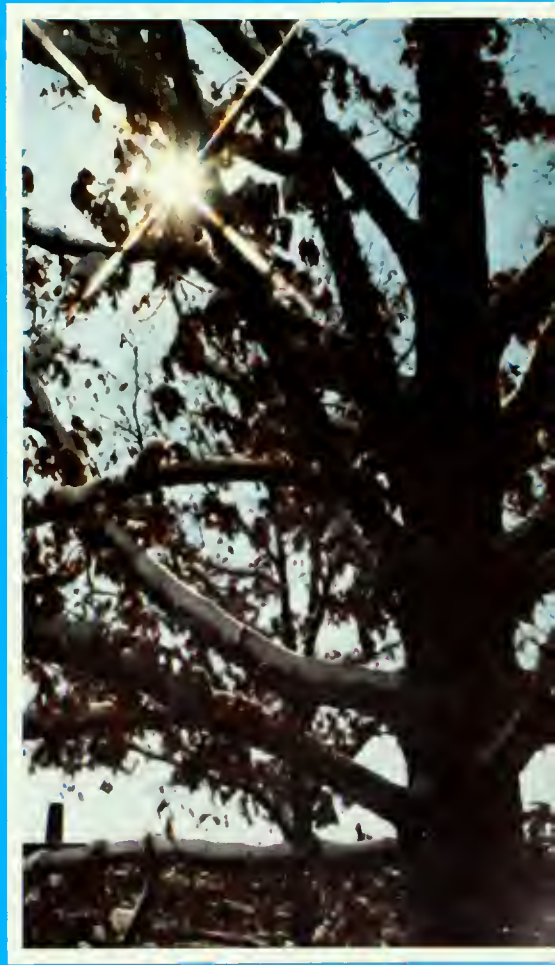
A narrow wind complains all day
How some one treated him;
Nature, like us, is sometimes caught
Without her diadem.

There's a certain slant of light,
On winter afternoons,
That oppresses, like the weight
Of cathedral tunes.

— Emily Dickinson —



Any Time of Year!



Good Luck Seniors!

Through four long years, you have groaned about early classes, eaten at the dining hall (which may have left something to be desired) and complained about those certain professors and administrators you would like to strangle!

But, at the same time, you have had many wonderful experiences as you grew in mind and body at IUP. There are friends you've made that will never be forgotten and things you've done that will become cherished memories forever.

Your college years can never be repeated. What you have experienced here at IUP can be kept in your memory forever; it is something to be passed on for generations.

As you graduate, look back over your years at IUP and consider yourself lucky to have been here.

The famous Oak Grove!

Munching out at Farm Day

The Sheik of Arabia, perhaps?

The ghosts of summers past

This is my dedication to all those who made this book possible. I want to thank my staff, who was always willing to help me when things weren't going too great. Thanks to my friends in Whitmyre who put up with me and all my complaining while this book was being made. Thanks to my family for their support of me, to Jean for her love, to God, without whom I would be a total mess. A special thank you to C. T. Miller for putting up with an "airhead!" Good luck to Cindi next year. I know you'll do an excellent job. I'll miss it, I guess. Congratulations to all the graduating seniors!
